Liberty Gap Cover.

All 3 of our Liberty Gap Cover options provide a financial solution to the common problem of self-payment shortfalls that medical aid members face.

The Problem

All medical scheme members face the problem that surgeons, anaesthetists and other specialists frequently charge more than the amount covered by their medical scheme. When this occurs, the medical scheme member becomes liable to pay the medical expense shortfall (self-payment gap).

The table below contains some common procedures that frequently result in medical expense shortfalls. Listed too are the Rand amounts that were not covered by the medical aid and required payment by the member. These are actual Liberty Gap Cover claim amounts paid during 2022/2023 (Source: 2022/2023 Zestlife claims register).

The Solution

Medical scheme members can insure themselves against medical expense shortfalls with the Liberty Gap Cover option that best suits their individual, family and affordability needs.

Liberty Universal Gap Cover offers comprehensive medical expense shortfall cover with additional financial protection for a wide range of health risks. This option can be selected as single individual or family cover.

Liberty Essential Gap Cover offers affordable medical expense shortfall cover for the most frequent shortfalls, and additional financial protection for selected health risks. This option can be selected as single individual or family cover.

Liberty Optimal Gap Cover offers high levels of cover and affordability to match the needs of single individuals younger than 35.

Please note: Gap Cover is not a medical aid or a substitute for medical aid membership. The cover is not the same as a medical aid. It's a health insurance policy that covers medical expense shortfalls that arise when your medical scheme only covers part of your medical treatment costs.

To qualify for this cover, the medical scheme's part payment must be paid from the medical scheme's hospital benefit or major medical benefit.

To assist in choosing the Liberty Gap Cover option that best suits your needs, please study the summary of benefits to follow. If you require further assistance and advice, please contact your Liberty Financial Adviser.
